It wasn't that merry of a Christmas for Romulus residents David and Sheryl Staten and their 5½-year-old son, David Jr. A visit by someone other than Santa Claus left the couple without a present under their Christmas tree just two days before Christmas Day. Coupled with an automobile accident and the disappearance of the youngster's pet dog, the couple are now wondering what's so merry about Merry Christmas.

Robbed! But Santa saves day

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Anyone who doubts the reality of Santa Claus may just have an argument on their hands if they relay that line of thinking to 5½-year-old David Straten Jr.

You see, Christmas 1984 was not a very good one for the Straten family of Romulus; David, David Jr. and Sheryl.

"It began on Friday, the 21st, when someone smashed into my car (a Corvette), which may be totaled," says Sheryl. "But that seems like the least of our problems."

On Dec. 23, between the hours of 5:30 and 10 p.m., thieves broke into the Straten household and stole more than 50 wrapped Christmas gifts from under the carefully decorated tree and others that were sitting on the couch, forced there by the overflow under the tree.

"Both my husband and I have large families and we always exchange gifts," Sheryl said.

The family returned to their home on McBride Street between Gary and Lisa to find the front door broken open and various lights on around the house.

"We didn't know if the people were still in the house or not, so my husband stood watch, while I took my son and went to a neighbor's to call the police."

The police came, but found no evidence to connect them with any suspects, although Det. Sgt. David Early reports that a grey/silver Torino was seen in the area around the time the robbery took place. An investigation is ongoing, Early said. Nothing else was reported stolen, although a television was in plain sight and bedroom drawers were ransacked.

Since David Jr. still believes in Santa Claus, "his presents weren't wrapped with the others," his mother said. They may have been hidden in the basement or... then again, they may have still been up at the North Pole at the time of the robbery.

"At least he had a Christmas, but he was unhappy because of what had happened.

He's still afraid to sleep in his own room," Sheryl said.

One of the stolen presents was bought by young David through his kindergarten class' "Santa's Workshop," and its disappearance really upset the youngster, according to his parents. "He was so proud, so proud," his mother said, adding that "whoever went out of their way to ruin our Christmas succeeded."

As if the Straten family hadn't gone through enough, tragedy struck again Christmas Day, but the family feels someone reading this article may be able to help them out.

"Our dog ran away," said a dejected Sheryl. "I let him out in the yard and didn't know the gate was open. Young David is really broken up about this, because Pumpkin (the dog's name) was his puppy."

"Pumpkin is one-year-old and is a combination cockapoo and terrier," Sheryl said, "in a way he looks like a poodle because of his long, shaggy curls. He's a light beige color, and we're just so worried about the little guy because he isn't that big. Hopefully, he was taken in on the bitter cold Christmas night by a nice family."

According to the family, the house had been broken into one time previously, and they pressed charges against the youths, which were later dropped because of a technicality.

"You know," says Sheryl, "my husband was born and raised in Romulus and so was I, and we always defend it to people who talk down about the city. But things like this can shake your confidence."

Anyone with any information or tips on the robbery should contact the Romulus Police Department at 941-8400. Anyone with any information on a year-old loving puppy who's sorely missed by his young owner can contact the police or the Romulus Roman at 729-4000.

"It's not the money as much as it is knowing that these people were in our homes," says Sheryl, "but maybe worst of all is little David's fear of his own home and the look in his eyes when he thinks of Pumpkin, still looking for him out the window."

1984...A very good year

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

1984 was a year of resurgence for the city of Romulus, but it was not without its tragedies, controversies and battles as well.

Overall, it was the best year Romulus has enjoyed in quite awhile, both economically and, according to Mayor Beverly McAnally, who served her first full year in office, enthusiastically.

"There seemed to be a renewed sense of pride about the city, a new sense of enthusiasm that ran from city hall throughout all of Romulus," said McAnally. "Every department appears to be taking a special pride in their work now, a pride that is ongoing, and judging from what I've heard from residents and as evidenced by their participation in community affairs such as committees and the hugely successful Michigan Week Festival, it's being felt all over."

One of the main contributing factors for Romulus' rejuvenation in 1984 was the revamped Economic Development Corporation (EDC), which, among other actions, helped to bring a number of new hotels into the city.

According to McAnally, "another reason people felt better about Romulus was the extensive cleanup campaign we had. Lots that had sat unattended for 30 years were cleaned and groomed. When things look better, people naturally take more pride in them."

Another bright note was the passage of the school millage, which allowed the school board to hire 26 new teachers (17 of which were recalled), restored elementary art, music and physical education classes, created computer and foreign language classes at the junior high school level and, most importantly, reinstated sixth hour classes at the high school for the first time in three years.

1984 also saw the tearing down of the old foundry building and construction begin on a new Romulus Post Office. A controversial development plan, the Tax Increment Finance Authority (TIFA) was introduced amid a cynical crowd at city hall, but was passed by council regardless.

City administrators were hopeful that voters would give the nod to four-year terms, rather than the two-year terms

It was a year of success stories. Huron Township residents were able to keep a proposed landfill out of their community, now in effect in Romulus. "The residents of Romulus have made it clear to me and my fellow council members that the four-year term should go on the ballot," said Councilman Barry Baumann prior to the election. The Romulus Michigan Week while Romulus saw its Michi-

BFI site from their final plan, which was submitted to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and will dictate where dumpsites may be located.

Tragedy struck early in the year as state representative gan Week 10K Run gain in popularity and the first homes wired for cable television.

Romulus' claim to baseball fame, Charlie Lau, died after a bout with cancer in March and, in July, Romulus Police Inspector Robert Sullivan passed away following a brief illness. Sullivan was 61, and had been with the Romulus police force since its inception.

Sullivan was replaced by McAnally by John Lewis, in a controversial move which left many in the department bitter that the position had been filled from outside the department instead of from within.

Canton's Jim Kosteva was victorious in his election bid to take over the state representative spot vacated by Ed Mahalak, who announced his retirement following a heart attack early in the year.

In a story first reported in the Romulus Roman, 31 men were arrested for alleged homosexual advances at a Canton rest stop along the I-275 freeway, including Wick Elementary School principal Richard Goode and six other area educators.

Goode later resigned as principal, citing bad health, according to school superintendent Dr. William Bedell. He later pled "no contest" to charges in a Canton Township court.

Cable television finally came to Romulus in 1984, as Barden Cablevision opened an office on Huron River Drive and began hooking up homes. The company plans on having the entire city wired by August of 1985.

"I just think it's been a super year," McAnally said, adding that "I'm sure 1985 will be an even better one!"

"There seemed to be a new sense of pride about the city, a new sense of enthusiasm that ran from city hall throughout all of Romulus."

Festival was a success, bringing more than 10,000 people out despite some rainy weather during the five-day affair, with more than 200 competing in the second annual 10K Run.

Huron Township saw its Applefest grow into one of the largest festivals of its kind in the state, with an estimated half-million persons taking part.

Huron Township was also the site of the year's biggest upset in a local election, as long-time politician Mary Lou Carey was defeated in the primary race, her position as township clerk eventually being filled by Vickie Lyons.

Lyons, as head of the Huron Valley Citizens Association, fought a successful battle against a proposed landfill which was to have been built in the community by BFI Industries. Despite a multi-million lawsuit against the township, the Wayne County Solid Waste Planning Committee voted to exclude the Post office to bear Carl Morris' name

Official designation of the new postal facility in Romulus as the Carl W. Morris Post Office Building was announced in Washington, D.C., last Thursday by Congressman Bill Ford (D-Taylor), chairman of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

In a letter to Ford, Postmaster General William F. Bolger said that the new building, which is under construction on the site of the old foundry building in downtown Romulus, will be completed by spring and open for business soon after that.

"I am sure this will enhance service to our Romulus customers," Bolger said.

Last summer, Ford led efforts in the House to get the new facility named after Morris who, in a career that spanned 30 years, served his community, his state and his nation before his death in 1982.

"A lifelong resident of Romulus, who I was privileged to represent in the House, Carl Morris was a prominent member of the local business community. But it was his activity during his spare time, which endeared him to his fellow citizens," said Ford.

"Beginning with his election to the Romulus Board of Education in 1947, Carl Morris devoted his time and energy to a wide variety of civil activities. It was in the field of education, though, in which he made his most important and lasting contributions.

"His record of service included terms as president of the Wayne Intermediate School Board and the Michigan Association of School Boards."

Ford said the decision to invest in a new postal facility serves as recognition that Romulus is a growing city with a viable economic base.

There's still plenty of work to be done on the new Romulus post office building. Although its actual date of completion has yet to be announced, residents of the community know one thing. It will be named in honor of the late Carl Morris, well-known in the city for his community activities.

Mensa to offer scholarship

March 1, 1985, is the deadline for the 1984-1985 scholarship essay contest announced by the southeast Michigan area chapter of Mensa, the "High IQ Club", and the Mensa Education and Research Foundation. Awards of $1,000, $500, $200 and $150 will be made in each of Mensa's nine regions, including the southeast Michigan area.

Southeast Michigan will also award scholarships of $1,000 and $500 to winning entrants within its area.

In addition, two special awards will be given. The Rita Levine Memorial Scholarship will award $500 to a female returning to school after an absence of seven or more years. The Howard M. Turney Financial Aid Program will provide $1,000 to study for a career in engineering, mathematics, medicine or the physical sciences, and requires that the recipient score in the top 2 percent of the general population on a standard IQ test.

It is not necessary to be a member of MENSA to apply for the scholarships. Awards are unrestricted as to age, race, sex, level of post-secondary education and financial status. The sole requirement for the Mensa scholarships is that the applicant be enrolled, for the year following the award, in a degree program in an accredited American institution of post-secondary education.

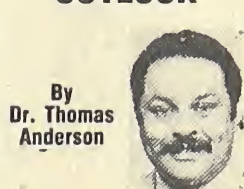

The awards are made on the basis of an essay of about 500 words which describes the applicant's career vocational, academic, or goal direction. The application should describe a career direction toward which the scholarship is to provide aid. Essays may be rejected, regardless of content, if flawed by poor grammar or spelling, or if the application instructions are not followed.

For further information concerning this scholarship and to obtain application forms, contact Walter Gannon, 1925 Alexander Drive, Troy, Michigan 48063. A stamped, self-addressed envelope must accompany the request.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By Dr. Thomas Anderson
BACK STRENGTHENING EXERCISES

At work or play, your spine often takes a beating. Stress reacts with muscle spasms, recurring aches, painful ligaments and joints. Your chiropractor can put new life into your back with a diagnostic exam to locate the core of your problem, and then gentle manipulative adjustments to correct misalignments of spinal segments. Flexibility is quickly restored, as is painfree transmission of vital nerve energy.

Your chiropractor prescribes exercises to rebuild back strength fast. Stomach, leg and arm muscle exercises help take the load off your back, too. The ultimate goal is to strengthen these accessory muscles and protect you against strains, sprains and lower back pain. Chiropractor-prescribed exercises help build endurance, strength and total body conditioning.

RAGAN FINDS A HAPPY HOME . . . Phyllis and Robert Smith of New Boston are proud new adoptive parents of Sesquicentennial Cabbage Patch Kid Ragan Stella. HALECREEK DID IT AGAIN . . . The Parent Teacher Guild at Halecreek has sponsored Dad's Day, a Fun Run, picture day, Tiger Day and the Mr. Slim Goodbody Show. Do you know what they've done now? They have put together a board game that looks similar to Monopoly, only it's much more interesting for us because the spaces are primarily composed of local businesses. It is really a fun game and is played much differently than Monopoly. Call Halecreek Elementary (942-0140) to order your "Game of Romulus" right away. I understand that the $9.95 price is considered a tax deductible donation.

ONE LINK IN THE CHAIN . . . On March 15, 1976, a group of CB'ers got together and formed the Kwik Helpers CB

Club. They are determined to stand ready to assist with such charitable services and funds that may be at their disposal in times of need with regard to community & personal disaster and to encourage & promote fellowship among citizens to be community minded & humanitarian. They have grown into a solid organization. A few of their recent deeds include nearly $2,000 in donations to the emergency Network; $3,000 for the Penrickton Center for the Blind, and with the help of the Security Bank they were able to help 14 needy families with money, food and toys this past holiday season.

The club relies on donations, as well as proceeds from their Monday night bingo, which is held at the VFW on Huron River Drive. The Kwik Helpers are a link in the chain of non-profit organizations that do many good things for our community. If, in some way, you want to become a part of that link, give Jim Shelton a ring or a holler at 941-3551.

WHAT TO DO, WHAT TO DO? Consider this . . . The lady next door is alone and in serious labor, no joke, she needs you to help deliver her baby. What do you say? "Sorry, I don't do babies", or "I'll be right there." Think about this one . . . Your adventurous adolescent takes a dive . . . off the roof. You're sure his arm is fractured, do you move him?

Or what if . . . You see an accident on the highway. There is a man who is not breathing and you can find no pulse. Also a lady is bleeding badly and appears to be in shock. Do you sit on a rock and worry, or spring into action and help these people until the ambulance arrives?

NEVER FEAR, THE EMERGENCY NETWORK IS HERE: Founded in 1979, their original purpose was to assist in community emergencies or disaster. Near the end of 1980, however, they began to train and prepare interested individuals to deal with various emergencies that may arise. They consist of 25 volunteer members of which 16 are instructors who have had American Red Cross Disaster Training.

They will be giving Advanced First Aid review classes this month. CPR and First Aid training for interested individuals will be offered in March. Cost is only $2.08. Classes are limited to 14 people. Call right away to ensure that you will know what to do in an emergency.

The Emergency Network takes the responsibility of manning the First Aid Station at the Michigan Week Festival every May. 10-K runners are well attended, if need be.

One of the major supporters of the Emergency Network has been the Kwik Helpers CB Club. They have donated funds for the purchase of equipment and supplies such as training manequins and blankets. Their most recent donation was in the form of funds to purchase a special life-size OB manequin and film that will make possible the training of our Police and Fire Departments in the area of emergency child birth.

Persons interested in CPR and first aid training should call Jim Dennett at 941-9324, or write to: Emergency Network P.O. Box 452 Romulus, MI 48174.

Commision approves formation of Chaplain Corps for Sheriff

Wayne County residents soon are apt to see their own clergyman on duty in Sheriff's squad cars, according to County Commissioner Kay Beard.

But the clergymen would help only with departmental and community morale, special counseling and conciliation. They would never be considered for strict enforcement tasks.

Approved by the Commission recently, the idea is part of a plan to develop a Sheriff's Chaplain Corps, serving the department and the community as well as jail inmates, other offenders and their families.

"We think this unit will furnish immense goodwill, and be rewarding to everyone involved. It will promote better relations between the department and the community, aid in the personal growth of individual officers, and provide spiritual presence and comfort for victims of crime and accidents," Beard said.

The Chaplain Corps would be established as a non-profit incorporated organization and recruit the clergy from various faiths to serve voluntarily. Members of the Corps would serve a minimum of four hours weekly, sometimes on-call for 24 hours a day, one week at a time. They would dress in uniform blazer and trousers or skirt, with identifying patches and name tags.

Beard said she expects the Corps to be "especially valuable" in first-time juvenile arrests and cases mainly civil rather than criminal. She cited the following specific instances when the Corps would participate:

— Assisting Sheriff's personnel in notifying families of officers who have received serious injury, or upon death.

— Visiting sick and injured police personnel at home or in the hospital, comfort families of deceased members of the department and participate in religious and funeral services for them.

— Counseling officers and/or their families during personal or family crisis.

— Assisting in emergency situations such as threatened or attempted suicides, and instances involving a barricaded gunman.

— Assisting in handling domestic disputes and complaints against disturbed persons.

— Helping with notification of the next of kin in a citizen's death or injury, and serving as mediator between citizens and the department.

Members of the Corps would also attend roll calls and serve at departmental award ceremonies and class graduations, as well as accompany officers during scout car patrols.

"I think it is wonderful of them to donate this kind of time and service," Beard said.

Sisson -- Dukic exchange vows

The First Congregational Church of Royal Oak provided the setting for the Nov. 23 nuptial of Jean Marie Sisson of Wayne and Djeto Dukic of Hamtramck.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sisson of Westland, and the groom is the son of Mrs. George Dukic of Hamtramck.

Eighty guests were in attendance for the late afternoon double ring ceremony, officiated by Dr. Terrence E. Johnson. A unity candle flanked by two family candles, and two candelabras decorated the church, along with two floral arrangements of white chrysanthemums and white irises for the wedding.

The music was by organist Patrick Kuhl.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, chose a white chiffon over taffeta gown, with standup collar and scooped neckline. Lace and seed pearls accented the bodice of the gown, with the lace accenting the full sleeves that were fitted at the wrist. A pleated front panel of the skirt also was trimmed in lace, which also edged her veil.

Her cascade bouquet was made up of white roses and pink rosebuds.

She asked Mrs. Nicole Gjelaj, sister of the groom, to serve as her matron of honor. She wore a floor length light turquoise chiffon gown with long sleeves and carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and rosebuds.

Flowergirl for the ceremony was Kristina Gjelaj, niece of the groom and the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Nicole Gjelaj of Sterling Heights. She wore a pink and white dress for the wedding and carried a basket filled with pink and white rosebuds.

The groom asked his cousin, Mike Gojcaj to perform the duties of best man.

Mrs. Sisson wore a street-length dress of medium turquoise crepe, with long full sleeves, for her daughter's wedding. Her wrist corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Dukic wore a street-length navy blue suit with a white blouse.

A reception for the newlyweds and their guests was held at Gino's Surf on Lake St. Clair in Mt. Clemens, given by the bride's parents and the new Mr. and Mrs. Dukic.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Hawaii for one week and are presently living in Detroit.

The new Mrs. Dukic is a 1977 graduate of John Glenn High School. She also attended Henry Ford Community College and the Wayne State College of Beauty.

Her husband also is a graduate of the Wayne State College of Beauty. The couple are the owners of Snip & Clip Family Hair-care in Hamtramck.

Patience is a virtue

Should the Peoples Community Hospital Authority's five hospitals be sold to a private corporation? That may be a fact that the authority's Board of Directors will have to take up in the New Year.

It also is a fact that is not setting well with one member of that board, Wayne Mayor Patrick Norton, the board's vice-chairman, who has labeled the altering of PCHA from a public authority to a private corporation "a crime and a scandal."

Norton is vehemently opposed to the possible sale and has lambasted the Nashville-based Hospital Corporation of America, the world's largest hospital management firm, for its overtures to the elected officials of the PCHA's member communities before formally approaching the authority.

Opposition to change is nothing new for Norton, who was against the return of surplus funds to member communities and to the elimination of the member-at-large appointments to the board of directors, two issues that in the past few years have polarized the member communities.

We cannot agree with Norton on the tact being taken by HCA in light of the disputes that have surfaced within the authority and in light of the fact that the appointed members of the board are there to represent their member communities, not their own interests.

Only a fool jumps into the bathtub without testing the water, and the move by HCA to fly elected officials of the member communities to its headquarters in Nashville is one way of testing the waters on the possible purchase of the hospitals.

Norton also contends that the sale of the facilities would lessen community involvement in health care and "severely affect every employee" of the hospitals.

We must again question the wisdom of that statement. Public involvement in health care at the PCHA for the most part has been by way of a tax assessment and use of the facilities. Public input into such things as the cost of rooms and staffing are not a part of the public domain.

Those decisions are left up to the board of directors, whose members do not seek input from the residents of the community. In fact, short of media coverage, residents of the member communities are unaware of what actually is happening at those five facilities.

As to the affect a sale would have on PCHA employees, we doubt that there would much change, if any, among staffers at the five hospitals in light of the shortage of trained and qualified health care professionals.

Similar fears surfaced when Wayne County opted to sell the former Wayne County General Hospital last year. There may have been some shaky periods as county employees made the move to continue their public employment or move into the private sector, but the health care itself was none the worse for wear.

Changes in staffing, we suspect, would come at the upper management levels, where criticisms have surfaced about the excessiveness of staffing and free spending ways.

HCA has yet to make a formal overture to the PCHA, and we think that until such time it would be best that the authority's officials maintain a wait-and-see posture.

Under the American judicial system, a person is innocent until proven guilty, and in the case of a business dealing like this, it would be best that they maintain their professional demeanor until such time as HCA asks if the PCHA is for sale.

Mayor Norton's shoot-from-the-hip response to the HCA's overtures already have labeled him as a no vote, a vote that may well not be representative of his community as a whole and founded on something less than the facts.

Wonderings...

I often wonder about some of the things that happen in life ... I have not yet decided if they occur in a given pattern, randomly, or just to me.

For instance, am I the only one who constantly gets shorted one item at the fast-food drive-in window ... and don't even discover it until I get home? Maybe the restaurant owners do it intentionally, say, to every 10th customer, and that's really how they make a profit.

I wonder, too, if I am the only one who invariably spills food on the one tie just retrieved from the dry cleaners.

And what about the weather? Is there someone who watches to see if I wore my raincoat, and if I haven't, causes a down-pour? Is there a guy who makes sure I wore a light-weight suit before the temperature dives 20 degrees.

I wonder if everyone else has all the nasty bill collectors in existence call the office on the same day demanding payment (full moon, perhaps?). But, interestingly, all the people who owe me money (which I need to pay the people calling me about bills) are "away from their desks," "at lunch," "on vacation," or "in a meeting," when I call — all at the same time.

I would like to know if the 24-hour banking machine has really run out of money just before I arrive or does it never have cash, and we're all victims of false advertising?

And another thing ... I'm getting into this now ... how come I always know the answer to the other team's questions when I play Trivial Pursuit ... but rarely my own team's?

Why is it that all the other business owners vacation or recover from Christmas in Florida and I'm here, writing this column????

What causes the temperature in our office to be of one of two things ... A) too hot, or B) too cold? Why is that?

Why does it rain on the day I wash my car? Why do at least three people phone me with urgent questions the minute my lunch arrives, nice and hot, and keep talking until it is good and cold?

Why is it that my friends never seem to have time to talk or aren't at home when I call, but always drop in to visit me unexpectedly at the office when I'm in the middle of three wars or walking into an important meeting?

All this brings to mind the master of the laws of why things go wrong ... the one and only Murphy. Some of Murphy's Laws you are sure to recall are:

If something can go wrong, it will.
If there is a possibility of several things going wrong, the one that will cause the most damage will be the one to go wrong.

Every solution breeds problems.

Or how about Perrussel's Law which says, "There is no job so simple that it cannot be done wrong?" And don't forget the Parouzzi Principle which maintains, "Given a bad start, trouble will increase at an exponential rate." Then there's Allen's Law: "Almost anything is easier to get into than to get out of," or Frothingham's Fourth Law: "Urgency varies inversely with importance." And finally, Smith's Law: "No real problem has a solution."

Alas, it would appear, there are laws that govern our fate and tell us that we are all forever sentenced to seek solutions to insolvable problems and look for finite answers where there are none. Powers and forces beyond do seem to affect the ultimate outcome of all situations.

And yet, we must all resolve to continue to seek and search, attempting to make a difference as to the final outcome.

But I still wonder why I didn't get my french fries.
See you next week.

Cut waste

To the Editor:

The Executive Board of the Canton Chamber of Commerce is endorsing the Grace Commission recommendations for eliminating waste and inefficiency in the federal government.

The Grace Commission, which was established by President Reagan in 1982, is formally known as the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control. The Commission was chaired by J. Peter Grace, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of W. R. Grace and Company.

The Commission conducted a comprehensive, two-year survey of the operation of the federal government in order to identify potential cost savings. Following the study, the Commission proposed 2,478 recommendations that would save $424.4 billion of a taxpayers money over a three-year period.

Because of its concern about the effect of the growing federal debt on the economy, the Executive Board of the Canton Chamber believes that the implementation of the Grace Commission's recommendations is essential for the future well-being of our nation.

In addition, the Canton Chamber will join with the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and Citizens Against Waste in a nationwide effort to secure 50 million signatures on petitions protesting the waste of taxpayers' money by the federal government. The petitions will be presented early next year to the President and the Congress.

The petition is available in the Chamber office for signatures.

Save the horses

To the Editor:

Current estimates of Americas' total wild horse population is 50,000 - 60,000 (which most wild horse protectionists feel is grossly inflated). During November the government passed an appropriations bill allotting $20,000 to capture 35,000 wild horses in Fiscal Year 1985.

Currently government feels confident that at the latest date February 1985, Congress will pass sale authority; House bill 1675, Senate bill 457. This, coupled with the already passed appropriations bill, the horses will be rounded up.

Since 1971 the Bureau of Land Management has only been able to place about 45,000 horses total, they know that they cannot begin to place 35,000 in Fiscal Year 1985. So as the legislation permits they will sell the horses at auction to the highest bidder. The bidders will be the killers and 35,000 (probably Americas' total wild horse population) horses will line up and quietly be shipped to slaughter.

America has only one last chance to stop this slaughter and it is NOW, there will not be another chance.

If you feel this bill should not be passed, get our flier, sign it and return as soon as possible. A 20-cent stamp could save thousands of American Wild Horses.

Thank you

To the Editor:

On December 3, 1984 my husband and I had a fire in our barn. Our phone was out of service due to the fire and a neighbor called the Fire Department from his home for us (I'm sorry, I do not know his name).

I just want to thank the Fire Department and our neighbors for the quick response and the help they gave us in getting 15 horses and four cows out of the barn. The smoke was thick and I think we all suffered a little from smoke inhalation. Because of quick action, damage was confined to the clubhouse area. I just want to thank the Fire Department publicly for a job well done.

Being a newlywed and in this community only since November, 1984, I especially want to say how proud I am to be a member of this community where people help other people.

Ghosts of Christmases Past

"Good-bye, Santa. See you next year."
Whew, I thought he'd lever leave. I don't think I remember a Christmas season that started quite as early and lasted as long as Christmas 1984.
Just when I was getting use to Halloween costumes and pumpkins, the local malls broke out the tinsel and holly. I mean, how can you decide whether to give out Snickers bars or Dum-Dum suckers to the ghosts and goblins with "Silver Bells" ringing in the background.
As a child Christmas really began on Dec. 8 for me. That was a school holiday and the day Mom would take us to Hudson's in Detroit for the annual pilgrimage to see Santa. It seemed like it took forever and the line through Fantasyland stretched for floors before we made it up to the Jolly Old Elf for 30 seconds of whispering in his ear.
Once the important business was out of the way, it was off to Toyland for an unadulterated hour or so of checking — and of course, playing with — the toys. Mom would be hovering nearby, making her own list. We never could figure out — until she admitted it one year — how Santa knew what to bring us, since what we wanted from Toyland in no way, shape or form resembled what we had whispered in his ear.
Fantasyland and Toyland have gone the way of all other Ghosts of Christmases Past. They're fond memories that are revived around the table on Christmas Day each year.
Somehow I miss those ghosts. It's aggravating to me to hear someone proudly announce how they finished their Christmas shopping last summer. Maybe it's because each year I vow to start hunting for gifts when the summer sidewalk sales come around. Needless to say, that never happens. Maybe, too, it's almost anti-Santa to shop early. Certainly, you avoid the Christmas crowds — in the right frame of mind, mingling with last minute shoppers can be fun — and besides, those early birds miss all those nifty Christmas gift ideas that seem to materialize out of the backrooms just before the big day.

Okay, I'll admit I resent having the Christmas spirit foisted on me sooner than I'm prepared for, but what really leaves me cold — so cold that I'd rather be forced to watch 24 hours of nonstop reruns of "The Love boat" — are the flood of Christmas specials that clutter the airwaves from Thanksgiving on to the New Year.
Now, I'm not saying "ba humbug" to those type shows, it's just that some are so bad that they never should have made it off the editing room floor. Every star whose somebody and a few who are borderline nobodies have to share their Christmases — so contrived that they're absurd — with you.
I can handle the "Peanuts" Christmas special — I can even remember the first year it aired — the Dr. Seuss specials and "Frosty the Snowman." But come on, do I have to put up with "Scrooge's Rock 'N Roll Christmas," "Solid Gold's Christmas Special" on Tom Selleck in a Santa suit on a deserted island in Hawaii.

That's not to mention a rerun of the Hardy Boys — Nancy Drew Mystery Hour, in which super slueth Nancy Drew tackles the mystery of why Santa is on the Mob's hit list. (Don't ask me how, but supposedly Santa, who, of course, keeps disappearing and reappearing in a blink of the eye, saw a drug deal go down, but he did, nor how the Mob's hitmen were able to track him — minus the reindeer — to Nancy's hometown.)
I know that this week TV and movie mogels are meeting to plan their Christmas programming for 1985. I can just imagine what they have in store for us — "Kungfu Christmas" to air on the Martial Arts Theater, "Santa Does Dallas" on the Playboy Channel, "Godzilla Meets Santa Claus on Fantasy Island" on Chiller Theater and the "Best of the Worst Perry Como Christmas Seppials Live from Red Square" on a yet to be named major network.

Come on guys, give the Ghosts of Christmases Past a break. With the pre-Halloween start in the malls and the insipid network shows, you're making the Ghost of Christmases Future really look like a ghoul.
Okay, Santa, you're back at the North Pole, but could you do those of us who prefer a more traditional Christmas favor? Leave lumps of coal in the stockings of the producers. We holiday malcontents can send them matches, so they can use it to burn those retched specials they're so fond of saving to show year after year.

launch of our Michigan Lotto game, we are nearing the award of Lottery prizes at a rate equivalent to $1 million a day. Anticipated sales this year should erase all the newly-established records achieved in fiscal year 1984 which ended September 30.

Of key interest is the record of more than $234 million in net revenues earmarked for the State School Aid Fund to help support K-12 education throughout Michigan. This equated to $137.05 per pupil and is especially important now that budgets have been increased to provide children with greatly improved elementary and secondary education quality. Without Lottery funds, providing this same support for our schools would have cost the average Michigan household an aded $73.23 in tax dollars.

Benefits taxable for some

Every person who received or repaid any Social Security benefits during 1984 will receive a Form SSA-1099, Social Security Benefit Statement, during January 1985.
Form SSA-1099 will show the amount of Social Security benefits the person received during 1984. Form SSA-1099 should be used just as any other form 1099 received from a financial institution and should be used when the person completes his or her federal income tax return for 1984.

Starting with Social Security benefits paid in 1984, people who have substantial other income may have to include up to half of their Social Security benefits in their taxable income.

Included with Form SSA-1099 will be IRS Notice 703. This is a worksheet that people can complete to see if any of their Social Security benefits may be subject to federal income tax.

People who still have questions about the information shown on Form SSA-1099 after they read the explanation on the form itself can call the toll-free telephone number shown on the form, 1-900-200-1099. People who have questions about tax liability or figuring income tax should call the nearest office of the Internal Revenue Service at the number shown on the back of IRS Notice 703, if they cannot find the answer in IRS publications.

A free publication — Publication 915 — contains a detailed explanation of the entries on Form SSA-1099 and explains about taxability of benefits. Free copies are available at any Social Security or IRS office.

If you have other questions about Social Security, call 963-1500.

A very good year

It was a very good year for the Romulus Goodfellows, according to co-chairman Tom Ellis (right), who accepted a check for $100 from officers Rick Schwartz (from left) and Ron Huggins on behalf of the Romulus Police Officers Association. "We set a new record for Romulus," said Ellis. "We took care of more than 200 families this Christmas, and we were able to give each family more than we could in the past, too."

Lab proves successful in improving scores

A recent study showing that a compensatory education program, known as the "Reading and Math Lab" for ninth graders, held at Romulus High School this year, was successful in improving student achievement levels.

The program, which is supported by state and federal funds, gives students supplementary instruction in certain skills, including reading and mathematics. Participants for the program were students who demonstrated a need for additional instruction in those fields.

The study marking the progress of the program was conducted by Romulus Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Terrel LeCesne. He claimed that most "students attending the lab last year made significant gains in both subject areas."

According to the study, when given a standardized test at the beginning of the year, the average student in the reading program performed better than only 17 percent of the students nationwide. By year's end, the average student performed better than 22 percent of his or her peers.

"The students and the staff that have participated in this program should be congratulated for their accomplishments," said LeCesne.

Because of the success of the program, LeCesne said the district is encouraged to expand its compensatory education program into the 10th grade next year.

The instructors in the program were Judith Ladd and Jill Fleming.

Wayne wins WW Holiday cage tourney title

Reach for it

While Wayne's Pollis Robertson (43) and Cherry Hill's Mark Merriman (42) stand by for action, Howard Flowers (45) reaches for this Zebra rebound. Wayne emerged from the first round Holiday Tournament at Wayne with a nail-biting 57-53 victory.

Unbeaten Zebras rip Howell

By KEITH DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

The number 100 is a magic one in sports: Wilt Chamberlain's 100 points in one game, the Detroit Tigers' 100-plus victories in 1984, and 100 runs batted in for a baseball player.

For Coach Chuck Henry of the Wayne Memorial Zebras, the number 100 represented the number of victories Henry's teams at Wayne and Dearborn Divine Child have accumulated in his nine years of coaching.

Last Friday night, before a packed house at Alumni Arena, the Zebras presented Henry with his 100th coaching victory with a 66-47 win over a scrappy Howell squad in the championship game of the Western Wayne Christmas Tournament.

The Zebras raised their record to a perfect 6-0 as they took control of the game in the third quarter and ran away with the championship trophy.

"We were very pleased," said Henry. "Going in, there was no way we would win by 19 points. We had an excellent half. This was one of our goals this season in winning this tournament."

Wayne took control early and looked like they would have an easy time of it. Howard Flowers, the 6-2, 170-pound senior forward and unsung hero of this team, popped in 8 points for Wayne as the host team ballooned to a 10-2 lead at the 4:26 mark.

"Howard carries a real offensive burden for us," said Henry. "He has a nose for the ball. He can score inside and outside."

But Howell, now 4-2 on the season, refused to give up. The Highlanders revved up their scoring machine by outscoring Wayne, 8-2, closing the gap when Brent

Consolation: Romulus edges Willow Run

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus and Willow Run cagers will pick up where they left off Friday night when the 1985 basketball campaign resumes for the two teams on January 8.

Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles rallied for a stunning 67-66 victory over the Flyers at the Willow Run Holiday Basketball Tournament. They lost to Jackson 78-64 in the first round of the classic and Jackson went on to defeat Ann Arbor Pioneer 76-64 for the championship.

Willow Run will travel to Romulus on January 8 for the rematch and Wilkerson expects another hard-fought game.

"They're fast and tough," Wilkerson said, "and we're fortunate to come away with the victory in that consolation round."

Terry Mills, who scored a game-high 30 points, is credited with turning the tide for Romulus against the Flyers who rallied from a 14-9 first period deficit to come within a basket of catching their visitors at the intermission (29-27).

"We came down and made three consecutive turnovers in the second period and they returned with three straight three-point plays", Wilkerson explained. "They came back with the momentum in the third period as well."

When the Flyers scored the first couple of baskets of the third quarter, Wilkerson attempted to match up with his opponents man-to-man with disastrous results. Willow Run outscored Romulus 25-14 to grab a 52-43

Earl stole an errant pass and drove to the basket for the lay-up. Howell only trailed then, 12-10.

Wayne recovered and led at the quarter, 16-12, and continued to build the lead as the second quarter progressed. It eventually reached 22-12 but again, Howell came back.

Led by John Eckerle (Sr., 6-2, 160) and his four points, the Highlanders cut the lead to 29-26 at the 2:11 mark. The Howell fans, who will be happy next year when the tournament is at their home court, went wild as Brent Earl drove for a lay-up, was fouled and sank the ensuing free throw to cut the deficit to two, 31-29.

Jim Schultz (Sr., 6-2, 165) hit a bucket to tie the game at 31 with 16 seconds left but Wayne's Mark Robinson (So., 6-1, 150) hit a jumper eight seconds later to give Wayne a 33-31 lead.

"We felt that, defensively, we had to play good positional defense and needed to cut down on transition baskets," said Henry as he took his troops to the lockerroom at the half. "We had to make Howell work for their points."

Whatever Henry told this team at the half, it worked as they built their lead that reached 49-37 at the end of the quarter. When 6-3, 195-pound Howell center Scott Johnson left the game with a twisted ankle, the Zebras turned on the firepower. Flowers and 6-6 center Pollis Robertson led the way as the Zebras took total control of the game and forced Howell into numerous mistakes. "We didn't do anything different, but we played better defensively. We moved to a half-court defense. Pollis really played well in the quarter and started to score," said Henry.

The fourth quarter was more of the same as Wayne built its lead to 56-39 at the 6:40 mark. Thirty-six seconds later, Robertson brought the crowd to its feet with a thundering blocked shot and followed that three minutes later with a slam dunk that brought the Wayne crowd to its feet. However, the referee didn't see it that way as he called no basket because of a traveling violation.

But it didn't really matter as Wayne achieved their goal of winning the Christmas Tournament Championship and giving Henry that coveted 100th win.

Wayne's JV squad also won the tournament championship, defeating Howell, 56-52, as Mark Claiborne (17) and LaShawn Crenshaw (16) led the Zebras.

The Junior Zebras raised their record to a perfect 6-0 under coach Tim Cullen as Fred Horne and Mike Martin made key free throws down the stretch.

In two years, Cherry Hill High School will no longer exist because of the merger with the Wayne-Westland Community Schools and many of its students will be heading for the doors of John Glenn High School.

Last Friday night, the Rockets gave Cherry Hill an introduction to the "never-give-up" attitude of the student body as they overcame an eight-point deficit at halftime to defeat the Spartans 73-65.

Glenn broke on top early as senior forward Dave Jensen (6-2, 170) led the way with 6 points, four of them on beautiful shots that had the crowd oohing and aahing. Steve Hawley, the 6-1 sophomore forward, ignited the team with a length-of-the-floor dash that included a behind the back dribble and feed to Phil Koeller for a 4-0 Rocket lead with three minutes gone in the first quarter.

But Cherry Hill, sporting a 5-1 record entering the game after suffering their first loss of the season the previous evening to Wayne, 57-53, in a hard-fought contest, kept coming back in the opening stanza and refused to fold. Mark Merriman, the 6-5 senior forward who has already dazzled college scouts from all over the country, led the way for the Spartans with 6 points. Dion Gipson, getting his first real playing time of the season because of an injury incurred during the football season, came off the bench to score four points and ignite the Cherry Hill team as the quarter came to a close, with Glenn leading 18-16.

Cherry Hill took charge in the second quarter as Gipson pumped in three straight shots and Merriman hit for 13 points. Merriman, at one point, hit four consecutive baskets on offensive rebounds, as the Spartans dominated the boards.

Glenn kept as close as Jensen hit four points from the outside and senior guard Mike Baydarian connected for 5 points. Glenn left the court at the half, trailing 40-32.

Little did Cherry Hill know it; but they were in for a surprise in the third quarter. While they were busy accumulating fouls in the first half, Glenn was not. As a result, Cherry Hill would not take a free throw until 2:39 remained in the third.

Baydarian led the Rockets charge in the third, totaling 10 points including a perfect 4-for-4 from the free throw line.

Glenn caught the Spartans at 45, then again at 47, before Mark Merriman took charge with 6 points that netted the Spartans a 53-48 lead at the quarter break. But Rocket mentor Gordie Davis had mapped his strategy perfectly. Forcing Merriman outside where he wouldn't be able to control the boards, the Rockets began getting the rebounds with Ron Taig, Scott Winfrey, and Hawley taking charge of that duty. The mysterious disappearance of Gipson from the Cherry Hill offense also helped the Rockets close the gap at the end of the period.

Then the Rockets made their move early in the fourth quarter. Baydarian hit a bucket and was fouled, sending him to the free throw line. He hit that charity toss and connected on his next five as Glenn took the lead for good and held it. Baydarian, named to the All-tournament team, finished with 26 points for the game, including an outstanding 12-of-15 for the game from the free throw line. Winfrey was hit on a pass from Koeller and dumped it in as the Rockets celebrated their fourth win in seven outings this season.

A key to the Rockets' success in that quarter was holding Merriman to only 2 points. He finished with 26, matching Baydarian for game-high honors.

Earlier in the tournament, Glenn suffered a 70-60 defeat at the hands of Howell. Baydarian hit 21 points for the game and Hawley scored 13 points. Hawley also led the rebounders with 10.

The Junior Varsity Rockets finished third in the tournament, defeating Cherry Hill's JV squad, 75-60, as sophomore center Andrew Grazulis hit a career-high 25 points and dominated the boards, especially in the second half. Greg Bates scored 19 for the Rockets and Paul Beasley scored 16. Kevin Wilson led Cherry Hill with 19 and Steve Thibault and Henry Jones had 13 apiece.

Squeezing through

Squeezing between two Cherry Hill defenders, Wayne Memorial's 6-6 center Pollis Robertson (43) manages to get through for one of his seven baskets that lifted the undefeated Zebras to a 57-53 victory over the previously undefeated Inkster quintet. Robertson, voted the MVP of the Holiday Tournament, also scored 25 in the championship round against Howell Friday night.

Defending champ Glenn remains perfect in Northwest

By KEITH A. DEMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

Don't look now, fans, but look who is in first place in the Northwest Suburban League... Westland John Glenn, following successive triumphs over league rivals North Farmington and Livonia Franklin.

Before a boisterous crowd at Glenn's arena, the Rockets defeated an outmanned but pesky Franklin squad, 85-60.

The victory lifted the Rockets' over-all record to 3-2 on the young season and gave them momentum for the Western Wayne Christmas Tournament December 27-28 at Wayne memorial's Alumni Arena.

But the game itself, at least for the first quarter, was a little scary for the Rockets and their loyal fans. Franklin came out like a house afire and scored the first six points. The Patriots, playing with only nine healthy players, built a 20-13 lead after one quarter.

Chris Parenti, a 6-1, 185-pound sophomore forward, and Bob Solnikowski (Jr., 6-0, 193) led the way with six points.

The Rockets went 3:09 without a basket until senior guard Mike Baydarian scored. Baydarian, who led the Rockets with 17 points on the evening, hit four points for the quarter.

But fouls began taking their toll on the Patriots. Pat Hollingshead (Jr., 6-0, 165) and Jeff McCaw (Sr., 6-3, 195) were whistled for their third fouls before the 4:00 mark of the quarter. And with his situation on the bench, Coach Jim McIntyre didn't need that.

Glenn began taking advantage of the situation to narrow the gap. In fact, they scored the first eight points of the quarter to take a 21-20 lead. Phil Koeller, a 6-0 senior guard paced the Rockets with four points as did Dave Jensen, as Glenn went on a 19-11 binge in the quarter.

However, Solnikowski kept the Patriots close at the half, 32-31, with four points.

But ominous clouds lay over the horizon for the Patriots. Hollingshead fouled out and McIntyre was scratching his head.

If he was scratching his head at halftime, he was surely pulling his hair out by the middle of the third quarter. Glenn came out and blew past the Patriots.

Double-teaming the man with the ball, the Rockets forced several turnovers, which they turned into easy buckets. Again, it was Koeller who sparked his team. The senior guard scored 8 points, including a driving lay-up on which he was fouled and injured when he hit the wall. Scott Winfrey came off the bench and sank the free throw.

Steve Hawley (So., 6-1, 160) and Ron Taig (Sr., 6-2, 170) combined for 10 points that enabled the Rockets to take a 61-48 lead after three quarters.

McCaw, playing with those three fouls he had accumulated in the first half, hit for nine points but the rest of his teammates could only combine for 17 points. McCaw led all scorers in the game with 19 points.

Coach Gordie Davis played everybody in the fourth quarter except managers John Davis, Rob Hubbard, and Jim Tachar, and probably would have played them too if they were on the roster.

The Rockets continued to score at will as they outscored the Patriots 24-12 in the fourth quarter. Tim Wiseley (Jr., 6-2, 160) led the way in this period with 8 points and Jensen added six. Baydarian added four before leaving the game.

In addition to Baydarian's 17, Glenn was led by Phil Koeller's 16, Jensen with 12 and Winfrey with 11.

Earlier in the week, Glenn took it on the chin when Dearborn Fordson came from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat the Rockets, 64-58. The Rockets had built a 35-29 halftime lead thanks to 8 points from Baydarian and 5 from Jensen.

But the Tractors closed the gap to 48-47 after three quarters as Mike Malenski and Dan McDougall combined for 10 points. However, Glenn came back to take a 56-48 lead with 5:21 left in the final stanza.

Malenski revved up his scoring touch and hit 8 points of the final stanza to key the 16-2 run that netted the Tractors the victory.

Glenn's JV squad improved their record to a sparkling 5-0 as they defeated the Patriots, 69-47, as Greg Bates scored 17 points. Andrew Grazulis and Dan Liedel added 14 points apiece.

lead. Mills and Stevie Glenn then got down to business. Mills scored 10 of his 30 points in the fourth period while Glenn contributed seven of his 21 points to lift the Eagles over their hosts.

Mills finished with 20 of 14 from the field — he hit on two successive jumpers to give the Eagles the lead at 3:20 and also blocked a at-the-buzzer shot. Glenn finished with 21 on 10 field goals and one of four at the line.

Romulus committed a handful of turnovers in the first period that Jackson capitalized on in the opening round. Trailing 17-12 at the end of the opening period, the Eagles couldn't make up the difference despite Mills' heroics.

"Although we were down by 11 at halftime, I still thought we would get back in the game," Wilkerson noted. "However, we lacked the intensity in this one."

Robertson is tourney's MVP

Pollis Robertson, who led Wayne Memorial to the Western Wayne Holiday Basketball Tournament championship, earned recognition as the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

The 6-6 senior tossed in 17 points in leading Coach Chuck Henry's Zebras to a thrilling 57-53 victory over previously undefeated Cherry Hill, and he also sank 25 points in the finals against Howell as Wayne emerged with a lopsided 66-47 triumph in the championship game.

Robertson also recorded 48 rebounds to go along with his 42 points for the two-game tournament.

Joining Robertson on the all-tourney team are Cherry

Hill's sharpshooter, Mark Merriman (6-5½, senior) who scored 22 against Wayne, and Westland John Glenn's Mike Baydarian (5-11, senior), Howell's Jim Schultz (6-1½, senior), Howard Flowers (6-2, senior).

Ice sculptures capture nationwide attention

By ROSE MARY REIZ
ANP Staff Writer

More than 200 tons of ice will be used in the third annual Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular — an event that this year will capture a nationwide audience.

The local show, the largest ice carving event in North America, begins Jan. 2, when more than 200 ice carvings will be created at the Midwest Ice Corporation in Detroit by the behind-the-scenes stars of the show — local chefs.

"It looks like we're going to have more than 100 local chefs entering the contest this year," said Midwest owner Jim Ryder, whose company provides ice to commercial establishments such as supermarkets and party stores, as well as supplying 440-pound carving blocks to Detroit-area restaurants and hotels.

Cash prizes of $1,000, $500 and $300 will be offered during the "mini-competition," sponsored by Ryder.

"Weather permitting, the chefs will carve on the dock of our plant in Detroit, or in our freezer," Ryder explained, adding that it takes about 90 gallons of water to produce one 400-pound block. Those who compete in the contest will receive a gift certificate for a free block of ice delivered to their hotel, Ryder said.

After the contest closes Jan. 8, the sculptures will be transported by a truck caravan and police escort from the giant freezer at Midwest to the city of Plymouth, where the sculptures will be displayed along downtown streets through Jan. 21.

Special dinners, competitions, demonstrations and tours will highlight this year's event, co-chaired by Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper and Mayflower Hotel General Manager R. Scott Lorenz. The Miesel/Sysco Food Service Company is the prime sponsor of this year's show.

Culinary arts students will compete for three $1,250 college scholarships from Miesel/Sysco during the show.

Professional chefs will also compete for trips to London, England, and to Florida. Last year's professional winner was Chef Steve Galluzzi of Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas, who won the contest with a swinging sculpture featuring birds.

The 1984 Spectacular is expected to draw a nationwide audience following its recent listing in the American Bus Association's (ABA) "Top 100 Events in North America."

The Plymouth show now joins such attractions as the Super Bowl, Rose Bowl and Indianapolis 500 as one of the ABA's choices of best tourist attractions in North America.

stroll through Kellogg Park. Visit the finished ice sculptures as they glisten under the mid-night moon in their true splendor.

SUNDAY, JAN. 13

9 a.m. to 2 p.m. — "Ice Brunch." Truly a Mayflower delight. This brunch at the Mayflower Meeting House has attracted thousands over the years. It includes a wide assortment of breakfast and lunch items which will satisfy everyone. Price is $8.50 per person.

11 a.m. to dusk — After brunch, treat yourself to a variety of ice demonstrations in Kellogg Park. Students and professionals will be carving displays all day. They also will answer any questions about ice carving.

MONDAY, JAN. 14

8:30 a.m. to dusk — Perhaps the best way to appreciate all the ice carvings is to visit Plymouth one day after the busy weekend. Take a self-guided tour through the downtown streets to see the finished sculptures — without having to battle the crowds. The carvings will be displayed for one week after the spectacular, weather permitting.

Cultural tour planned

The Michigan Opera Theatre Guild (MOTG), in cooperation with Pan American Airlines and Chuck Randolph Travel and Tours of Birmingham, announce a special 10-day cultural tour of Austria's two music capitals, Salzburg and Vienna for March 19-28.

Musical highlights will include a tour of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart's historic birthplace in Salzburg, as well as performances of Vienna of Gounod's opera "Faust" and Tchaikovsky's ballet "Swan Lake."

The Michigan Opera Theatre Guild itinerery plans a Detroit non-stop transatlantic flight to Munich with motor coach transfers to Salzburg and Vienna. This specially designed tour not only includes opera and ballet performances, but also concerts in famous Austrian castles, a performance of the Vienna Choir Boys and a performance of the world renowned Lippizan horses at the Spanish Riding School.

Price at $1,495 per person, based on double occupancy, this exclusively designed package also includes festive dinners and first-class hotel accommodations in both Salzburg and Vienna. This 10-day cultural tour concludes on Thursday, March 28, departing Vienna for Detroit via New York City.

Reservations are limited to 40 and must be confirmed by no later than Jan. 15. A deposit of $200 per person is required in order to secure a reservation and final payment is expected 60 days prior to departure.

For further travel information and reservation orders, contact Denise Smith at 642-0669 or call Chuck Randolph Tours at 645-5050.

MOT will perform Grimm's fairy tale at Madonna College

"The Musicians of Bremen," a musical production by the Michigan Opera Theatre, will be performed at Madonna College, Livonia, Saturday, Jan. 19, at 3:30 p.m.

Suitable for both children and adults, the performance will be interpreted in sign language for hearing impaired persons in the audience. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

The musical is an interpretation by Michigan composer Al Balkin of a Grimm Brothers' fairy tale in which a donkey, a dog, a cat and a rooster are turned out by their master who has decided they are too old to be useful.

Together, they go to Bremen, a perfect city where individuals are loved and respected. They discover they can play musical instruments, and the "band" is formed. Their lives take on new meaning!

The story has significance for elderly persons who are fearful of change in their lives and for children who can see in the story an example of adaptation to new circumstances and the strength of friendships.

Five children from the audience will be invited to take part in the performance.

This is the culminating activity in a day-long workshop at Madonna directed toward special education teachers and others who help bring artistic experiences to hearing impaired and handicapped persons. It is partially funded by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Madonna College is located at I-96 and Levan Road in Livonia. For further information call 591-5124.
